

Dulles Flies To Germany For Arms Talks

Two Americans Lie To Win Release From Windowless Red Chinese Jail

By FRED HAMPSON
HONG KONG, Sept. 15 (AP)—Bedbugs, brain washing and isolation in darkened cells—that was the Red China encounter by two American newsmen and a Brooklyn ship captain who returned today, ill and shaky, from 18 months as prisoners of the Communists.

There were flies, too, and endless meals of rice.

"They brain wash you from time to time," said Richard Applegate, 37, of Medford, Ore., a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent, after setting foot on this British crown colony. "We had to tell them we loved communism before we could leave."

His companions were Donald Dixon, 25, of New York, an International News Service correspondent and Benjamin Krasner, 31, a ship captain, all seized aboard the 42-foot yawl Kert by a Red Chinese gunboat off Hong Kong March 21, 1953, while they were sailing toward Portuguese Macao.

"Any boat that is small enough is apt to be captured by the Communists," said Dixon. "They like to jump on small things. The machinegunners looked like they were itching to shoot somebody who couldn't shoot back."

Krasner, so run down he had trouble focusing his eyes, said he was forced to sign confessions written in Chinese without even knowing their meaning.

For the last 16 months, the three had been confined in small, windowless cells in a Canton jail.

Taken by the Reds to the border bridge at Lowu station today, they were met by U.S. Vice Consul Hodridge, who brought them in his car about 40 miles to Hong Kong. Hodridge's simple greeting was: "I am a friend from the American consulate."

DON DIXON (right), correspondent for an American news service, and Richard Applegate (left), correspondent for a broadcasting company, have been released from Chinese Red captivity. They had been seized in March, 1953, with Ben Krasner, a merchant marine captain who also was released, while on a cruise from Hong Kong to Macao in Applegate's yacht "Kert". Dixon, 27, was from New York. Applegate, 41, was from Medford, Ore.

Applegate was wearing soiled blue jeans and a sport shirt which appeared to be the same clothing in which he sailed on his ill-fated voyage. Dixon, who seemed to be in the worst physical condition, was in slacks. Krasner wore soiled civilian clothes.

About 70 reporters and photographers gathered at the Peninsula Hotel in Kowloon, Hong Kong colony city on the mainland, to interview them.

"Let us go up to our rooms and calm down first," one returnee said. "We're too shaky to talk. We'll talk to you later."

When they returned after a brief rest, the three talked in turn. Their joy over returning to freedom almost turned to hysteria at times as they recalled their ordeal.

All three said they would withhold some facts about their imprisonment "because the three others are still in Communist hands." They referred to Krasner's Chinese fiancée, Wang Ying, and two Chinese boat boys seized with them on the yawl.

Applegate gave this account of their movements after their capture:

They were taken to the Red Chinese island of Lapsapem, where their yawl ran aground. A week later they were taken to Swabue, in Kwangtung province, and thence to Canton, where they were imprisoned in a private house until last Nov. 5. Then, blindfolded and handcuffed, they were taken to cells only 6 by 11 feet with a slit in the wall of each for ventilation. They stayed there until their release.

Although the Peiping radio announced Sunday the Americans had been "deported," they were not told they were being released until last night. U. S. representatives at the Geneva conference had received hints from the Chinese there in May they might be released soon. Britain's former Prime Minister Clement Attlee intervened in their behalf recently when the Labor party's delegation was in Peiping.

When the Red inquisitors learned Applegate had covered the Korean War, they questioned him repeatedly on germ warfare. He first told his questioner:

"That's a lie. There were no germs dropped in Korea."

But the Communist interrogator pounded his desk and yelled:

"You lie, and if you don't tell the truth, we'll kill you. Go back to your cell and think awhile."

He finally learned what the Chinese wanted from a translation of Russian stories they let get into the cell.

"I knew then what they wanted to hear, and I gave it to them," he said.

"I found out the Reds wanted me to lie about germ warfare in Korea, so I lied plenty. I lied 17 pages of lies. They told me that even the wind from Hong Kong contained germs. I agreed."

Emphasizing the insect pests, Applegate said he had malaria attacks twice and Dixon once. The Americans had their own medicine, but the Chinese took it from them, later giving them atabrine and quinine.

Police Doubt Ray's Murder Confession

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—A Pennsylvania state policeman said today the detailed confession of a man who said he murdered a coed here 14 years ago "isn't holding up good at all."

Cpl. Howard Hancock of the Rockview barracks referred to a statement made two days ago in an Oklahoma prison by 31-year-old Jack Ray.

In the 600 word statement, Ray said he murdered Rachel Taylor, 17, near Penn State College March 28, 1940.

Hancock, the first state police man to be called into the investigation at the time of the murder, had this to say today after checking Ray's statement for accuracy:

"There are too many discrepancies between Ray's details of the murder and what our investigations have found to be the real story."

"Of the many names Ray gave in his confession, not one of them checked out through extensive investigation today."

"Following the leads supplied in the statement, we carried our investigation to Columbia County, Mt. Carmel, Blakely, near Scranton, and even into Massachusetts. In each case nothing materialized."

Ray's statement said Miss Taylor was bludgeoned to death with a gun because she refused to give Ray a letter which would have exposed him as a dope pusher (seller) at the college.

"To begin with, according to the records, Ray would only have been 17 at the time of the murder and from my experience investigating dope cases, I know the big boys just don't trust 17-year-old kids to push dope," Hancock told a newsman, adding:

"This whole thing seems to be falling apart piece by piece and I hate to see it happen."

Ray said in his confession that he had sold dope to a girl named "Candy" and that he had been intimate with her. He also claimed the letter in question was one written by "Candy" to Miss Taylor exposing his "activities" at the school.

"We have been checking in New England through police there and we have yet to turn up any girl named Candy," Hancock said.

"In fact, I was in on this murder investigation from the start and of all the girls I interviewed, I never came across the name Candy."

Hancock also said "more than one detail of Ray's description of the crime doesn't jive."

Hotel Heir Claims Baby Kidnaped

PARIS, Sept. 15 (AP)—James Goldsmith, handsome young British hotel heir, charged tonight an "unknown person or persons" kidnaped the daughter born in the tragic climax of his runaway romance with a Patino tin heiress.

Statements from Goldsmith and police sources suggested the 4-month-old girl may be with a member or servant of the Patino family.

Police sources said there had been difficulties between Goldsmith and the fabulously wealthy Patino family over custody of the child, Isabela.

The infant's 18-year-old mother, Isabel, died in childbirth.

Goldsmith reported to French police that the child had been kidnaped from a hotel in suburban Versailles and told reporters she had been under the care of her grandmother, Mrs. Antenor Patino, since Sept. 1 when Goldsmith left Paris on a business trip.

Police sources said they believe the baby may be enroute to Spain.

Powerful Military Forces To Be Kept In Western Pacific

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles took off tonight for Europe and its German rearmament problems, leaving behind a report to the nation that the United States plans to keep "powerful naval and air forces" on guard in the Pacific.

In a departing statement, Dulles said he was flying to Germany and Great Britain in quest of ways to restore German sovereignty and to rearm Germans in a Western defense.

A separate 15-minute talk, recorded before Dulles boarded a plane for Bonn and London, pronounced the recently negotiated Manila pact a firm defense against internal subversion as well as armed attack in Southeast Asia.

The talk, for a nationwide radio-TV audience, stressed that the Manila pact would protect young nations, like Laos and Cambodia in Indochina, while bottling up potential Communist aggression and keeping it from spreading in the Pacific area.

One thing he emphasized was that the agreement "will not require us to make material changes in our military plans."

"These plans already call for our maintaining at all times powerful naval and air forces in the Western Pacific capable of striking at any aggressor by means and at places of our choosing," Dulles declared.

"The deterrent power we thus create can protect many, as effectively as it protects one."

Dulles is flying to Bonn and London to talk with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

In his statement, Dulles in effect apologized to other European Defense Community nations which he will be unable to visit, he said, because he must rush back to New York City for the opening next Tuesday of the United Nations General Assembly.

However, he said, he hoped to meet representatives of these countries, "later this month" at a "European meeting." He gave no details in disclosing this probable gathering of what he called "a number of interested countries."

Presumably, he had reference to a British - proposed meeting of countries most affected by the French Parliament's recent rejection of EDC. Britain first suggested this meeting for Sept. 14 but, finding no immediate enthusiasm for it, set it aside while Eden toured the capitals of the EDC nations.

"I am leaving for Europe on account of the problem created by the French failure to ratify the treaties which would have restored German sovereignty and brought Germany into a European Defense Community," Dulles said in his airport statement.

He recalled that the Senate had "unanimously resolved that in this eventuality steps should be taken to restore German sovereignty and to enable her to contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security."

Dulles' return from London Friday night will be direct to his vacation headquarters, Duck Island in Lake Ontario, where he will spend the weekend drafting what the State Department called a major address. He is scheduled to deliver this speech, expected to fill in the details of President Eisenhower's proposed atomic clearing house, on Wednesday or Thursday before the United Nations General Assembly opening next Tuesday in New York City.

American officials said Dulles is taking with him to Europe no proposal to settle the question of German rearmament. The question has been a burning issue in Europe since France rejected the European Defense Community treaty which would have created a six-nation army including Germans.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen Dulles has written the foreign ministers of the five other countries which would have been in EDC, explaining that only a tight schedule prevented him from visiting their capitals. These five are France, Italy, Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg.

White said Dulles expressed the hope he would see them all at a later date in Europe. Presumably, this was a reference to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministerial council called for some time in October to consider the German rearmament question.

Dulles explained that he wanted to get Adenauer's views first hand and to discuss with Eden the ideas that British official picked up on his current tour of the EDC capitals. White said Dulles' trip was taken on his own initiative.

Adlai Brands GOP Party 'A Brawl'

CINCINNATI, Sept. 15 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic candidate for the presidency, said tonight "the Republican party is not a party, it's a brawl, and that's an awkward instrument of government."

Calling himself "a traveling politician from Illinois," he told a $10-a-plate Democratic rally in a speech:

"No wonder then that at their caucus here in Cincinnati a few days ago, Mr. Vice President Nixon urged his warriors to 'run scared' and directly predicted that the Republican party would be 'dead as a dodo bird' if it lost this fall."

Stevenson told the meeting the Republican "hatchet men will conduct the smear attacks on the flanks, while the President delivers what Sen. Neely over in West Virginia calls his little 'sermonettes.'"

"But I have a feeling, and I think Maine confirmed it, that our people are tired of this unending diet of equal portions of niceness, nonsense and nastiness."

Defeat Of New Hampshire Senator Only Upset In Nine Primary Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
REP. NORRIS COTTON'S defeat of Sen. Robert W. Upton for the Republican nomination for a New Hampshire Senate seat provided the major lineup change today resulting from Tuesday's spate of nine primary elections.

Elsewhere, congressional candidates seeking renomination emerged victorious as candidates were chosen in New Hampshire, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Colorado, Utah, Minnesota and Washington.

A New York state convention and a Rhode Island primary later this month will complete selection of nominees for the November 2 election.

Upton's Senate seat was one of five at stake in Tuesday's balloting. Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Saltonstall (R-Mass) were unopposed for renomination and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) won easily over two opponents.

For the fifth seat, Colorado Democrats chose former Rep. John A. Carroll, 53, onetime adviser to President Truman, over Denver Mayor Guord Newton to oppose Lt. Gov. Gordon Allott in November. Allott was unopposed for the Republican nomination to the seat vacated voluntarily by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.).

Johnson was nominated without opposition for the Colorado governorship and will face Republican State Sen. Donald G. Brotzman, also unopposed in the primary.

Cotton, a four-term House member, defeated Upton and Wesley Powell, a 37-year-old attorney, for nomination to the remaining two seats of the term of the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey. Upton held the seat by appointment. Stanley J. Betley, Manchester Democrat, will oppose Cotton in November.

Bridges, like Cotton, was considered a November winner in strongly Republican New Hampshire, but will compete in November against Gerald L. Morin, 30, Democratic mayor of Laconia.

New Antibiotic May Control Some Cancers

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—A new antibiotic, Puromycin, shows promise of controlling some infections and certain types of cancer, the American Chemical Society was told today.

The drug may be the first in a new line of antibiotics, by changing the original formula to "tailor-made" new ones against specific germs, viruses or cancer cells, said scientists of Lederle Laboratories division, American Cyanamid Co.

Puromycin has knocked out transplanted breast cancers in mice, and now is being tested experimentally on human cancers.

It shows greatest promise so far against African sleeping sickness, caused by a parasite, and is undergoing trials on humans and animals having this disease.

The drug was first obtained from a mold found in an old Indian mound in Wisconsin. Now it and a number of relatives have been made synthetically.

The drug apparently blocks some step in the life-processes of living cells, Lederle scientists said. In theory it may be possible to design drugs which viruses, germs or cancer cells would take in, in place of some essential chemical they need. The drug would become a monkey wrench tossed into the machinery of the cell or virus.

Puromycin was described by Dr. J. H. Williams, Dr. B. R. Baker, Dr. B. L. Hutchings, Dr. C. W. Waller, P. W. Fryth, J. P. Joseph and R. E. Schaub.

Woman Worth Weight In Gold (Or $75,158.84)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15 (AP)—There was a day when Miss Mary McCrea worried—just a little—about her weight. But not today.

For this morning every single ounce of her 148 1/2 pounds, including the clothes she wore, became worth its equivalent in gold. To the sum of $75,158.84.

Miss McCrea, 32, won that amount as the first prize winner in a nationwide contest conducted by a soap and detergent manufacturer. She did it by writing a 25-word sentence which pleased the judges.

An unemployed stenographer who lives with her mother in an apartment here, Miss McCrea got the money by standing on a scale at the United States mint here and having gold piled up on the opposing balance. After calculations involving the troy and avoirdupois weight tables, the reading was $75,156.40—not in gold, but by check.

Surviving Quints Resume Studies

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (AP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets took up studies for new careers today.

Marie and Annette registered at the Marguerite Bourgeoise College; Cecile and Yvonne started training as nurses at Notre Dame de L'Esperance Hospital in adjacent Ville St. Laurent. They are 20.

Emile, the fifth quintuplet, died of suffocation Aug. 6 during an epileptic seizure.

Marie will study French literature and sewing while Annette will follow courses in music.

Prize Bull Ill With Pneumonia; In Oxygen Tent

OLD WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—A Black Angus bull valued at $50,000 is seriously ill with pneumonia and has been placed in an oxygen tent at the C. V. Whitney farm.

Ivor Balding, farm manager, said he believed it was the first time for an oxygen tent to be provided for a bull.

He said the bull, known as Ankonian 3263, could sire 1,000 calves a year and that this and other reasons accounted for his high price tag.

Ankonian has been ill since Saturday and has been using six $15 tanks of oxygen a day. He also has had penicillin and aureomycin.

His temperature today was 106 degrees and he was given a 50-50 chance to live.

Nixon Calls For Support Of President

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 15 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon asserted tonight a Democratic-controlled U. S. Senate and House would "torpedo" President Eisenhower's program in mid-term.

He voiced the warning at a Republican state convention in the nearly-filled 2,845-seat Palace Theater.

Nixon said that Eisenhower opponents in the 81st Congress would be looking closer at the 1956 presidential election than towards helping the GOP administration enact its program.

"A Democratic Senate and House would torpedo this magnificent work—now at its mid-mark," Nixon said.

He reminded GOP candidates to "run scared."

"They should do that, he said, 'because the battles we lose, generally, we were too sure of winning.'"

"We'll win if enough people go out and vote," Nixon said.

The speech kicked off a 31-state barnstorming tour in the next 45 days by Nixon in behalf of President Eisenhower to help elect a working Republican majority in the national Senate and House.

Girl Strangled; Baby-Faced Yank Sought As Killer

RUSLIP, England, Sept. 15 (AP)—A pretty, 21-year-old girl was found strangled with a black-and-gold silk scarf today in bushes a quarter mile from U. S. Air Force headquarters in this London suburb.

Scotland Yard men, already hunting a man they describe as a baby-faced American for the similar strangle slaying last week of a party girl called "Red Helen", were put on the new "case of the girl in black."

The latest victim was Jean Townsend, managed of a women's department of a London theatrical costume. Her body was found with the silken scarf knotted tightly around her neck.

Disappearance Of Water Gap Boy Cleared Up; He Had Gone To Coney Island With Friend

NA 16-YEAR-OLD Delaware Water Gap boy "disappeared" for 24 hours yesterday, came back home and told his mother he had gone to Coney Island.

The boy is Ronald Hermance. He's the son of Mrs. Gladys Strause, Water Gap. He and his mother live with his grandmother in that borough.

Ronald came home from Stroudsburg High School on the school bus Tuesday night. He had his supper, then left the house, taking his bicycle with him.

The boy did not come home Tuesday night, Mrs. Strause said. Yesterday at 2:15 p.m. the mother called Samuel O. Wells, assistant principal of the high school. Ronald hadn't been in school yesterday, Wells knew.

After giving Wells the details, Mrs. Strause asked the school official what she should do. Wells told her she would check with State police and find out whom she should contact.

He did. State police told him to talk with Delaware Water Gap Police Chief Fred Decker. He did. Decker said he would try to find the boy.

Throughout the afternoon there was no sign of Ronald. No one seemed to know where he had been or what had happened.

Then—at about 7:45 last night—Ronald came home, Chief Decker reported. This was the story Ronald told:

After leaving his home Ronald ran into a friend. The friend was Raymond Seboldi, about 16 also, who once lived in Delaware Water Gap, but now lives in Tobyhanna, Decker said. Raymond had a car.

Ronald and Raymond decided they'd like to take a look at Coney Island. They took off in the car.

The two boys made it to Coney Island, all right, Ronald told his mother, according to Decker. It was on the way back home that things went a little awry—the car broke down in Easton.

Ronald had some money in his pockets after Coney Island. There was enough to buy a bus ticket home to Water Gap. So he did.

He arrived back home at about 8 p.m.—approximately 24 hours from the time of departure.

Chief Decker said the mother told him she had given the boy "a good talking to."

The boy's mother and mother are separated, Decker said.

Store Collapses; Three Killed

FLORA, Ill., Sept. 15 (AP)—An ancient two-story brick building suddenly collapsed today and buried five persons under a shower of bricks and mortar. Three were killed, including two teen-aged fountain boys.

A rescue operation lasting 4 1/2 hours was interrupted by the caving of an adjoining two-story brick building. A number of rescue workers narrowly escaped injury when part of the second building fell.

Horses, Clothes His Weaknesses

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 15 (AP)—A loan company bookkeeper today admitted holding up two other loan companies and using the loot to buy three riding horses and fancy clothes.

Gregory Beery, 27, of Girard RD1, pleaded guilty to charges of holding up the loan company offices four times. He was held for grand jury action.

Detective Inspector Alois Skonieczka said Beery got $2,082 in robberies at the Lake City Finance and Loan Co. Offices in Erie and nearby Conneaut, Ohio.

Lutheran Councilmen To Rally

ALLENTOWN.—World Lutheranism will be brought into brief focus at a stewardship rally of more than 4,000 church councilmen Saturday afternoon in Memorial Hall at Muhlenberg College.

The rally will get under way at 3:30 p.m. with a procession of about 500 clergymen. Rev. Ralph R. Hartzell, of Allentown, pastor of St. Stephen's Church and president of the Allentown conference, will serve as marshal. The procession will be headed by the presidents of six other conferences of the Ministerium.

Pastors and official boards will represent more than 500 congregations of Eastern Pennsylvania. The rally is sponsored by the stewardship department of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, of New York, president of the United Lutheran Church of America, the principal speaker, will develop an enlarged vision of the church. His topic is "This is the Church—as it ought to be."

Dr. Fry's address will climax a series of presentations, according to the Rev. Samuel E. Kidd, stewardship secretary of the Ministerium. Pastor Kidd will be the presiding officer at the rally.

World Christianity will be brought into national focus by an address by Dr. G. Elson Ruff, of Philadelphia, editor of "The Lutheran." He will discuss, "This is the Church—as it is in America."

The Lutheran Church in the eastern third of Pennsylvania will be considered in an address by Dr. Charles M. Cooper of Philadelphia, president of the Ministerium. He will speak on "This is the Church—as it is in the Ministerium."

A narrative of the church at work will tell the story of two boys as they enter into adult experiences in the church. The narrator will be Richard T. Sutcliffe, of New York, associate director of the radio and television department of the United Lutheran Church.

Participants in the narrative will be Rev. Claude E. Shick, secretary of the Ministerium; Walter R. Hagey, treasurer of the Ministerium; Dr. Henry H. Bagger, president of the Lutheran Seminary in Philadelphia; Dr. J. Conrad Segers, president of Muhlenberg College; Dr. Roy L. Winters, Ministerium superintendent of Home Missions; Dr. G. H. Bechtold, Ministerium executive secretary of Inner Missions; Dr. Earl F. Rahn, Ministerium executive secretary of Christian Education, and Miss Missouri Laueh, superintendent of the Lutheran Children's Bureau. Dramatic highlights of personal Christian experience also will be told through a recording and by personal appearance. A box supper will be distributed by the commissary staff.

Baron Reinhardt's "Little Theater on Oak Street" is going to be open for another puppet show the night of September 24. As are all his performances by the puppets, this one will be for a charitable purpose. Mr. Reinhardt has been asked to repeat the spectacular under-the-ocean-scene from the last puppet show he arranged.

Friends of Frank Howard had a treat Sunday night that may be enjoyed only once a year and then for but one or two hours. Mr. Howard's night-blooming cereus plant opened its seven flowers at 10 o'clock and they began to close at 11. Three huge blossoms hung by their stems from one leaf. Another leaf had two blossoms attached and the other two were each alone on a leaf. Two buds had fallen off without opening. The plant is a member of the cactus family. Its waxy white flowers have a center that is said to be the Star of Bethlehem and the infant in his cradle. A group of Water Gap folk spent an hour watching the rare plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carlton were in South Sterling Sunday to attend the Carlton family reunion. About 60 were at the noon picnic dinner. "Something New Every Day"

Attention Called To Boost In Social Security Benefits As Well As Expanded Coverage

THE SWEEPING new amendments to the Social Security Act, signed into law Sept. 1 by President Eisenhower, will affect virtually every family in Monroe County, according to Miss Marie T. Miller, district manager of the Social Security Administration.

"The protection of old-age and survivors insurance is now extended to 9 out of 10 families in the community," Miss Miller said, "and the benefit payments, not only to future beneficiaries but also to those now on the rolls, have been substantially increased."

Dwellings Purchased In Townships

TWO DWELLINGS were transferred recently, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the Court-house.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. McCoy, Pocono Township, transferred a property on Pocono Township on the Henryville Road to Paul C. Kresge, Pachogue, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt A. Gehm, Brooklyn, N. Y., sold a residence to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Rose, Barrett Township. The property, including 32.5 acres, adjoins land of Andrew L. Storm.

Abolishing the old requirement that farm workers be regularly employed by one employer means that over two million additional farm employees will have social security protection for themselves and their families. The new provision simply requires that the farm hand be paid $100 cash wages in a calendar year by one employer.

About 200,000 more domestic employees in private households will be covered by the law because of the removal of the former requirement that the domestic employee work 24 days in each calendar quarter in any one household. Here the requirement now is the payment of only $50 cash wages by one household employer in a calendar quarter.

About 3,500,000 employees of State and local governments, excluded up to now because they are under a retirement system, may now be brought under social security subject to a referendum.

Ministers, whether employed or self-employed, may come under the law as if they were self-employed persons. Included in this provision are Christian Science practitioners.

Other self-employed groups to be covered by social security as of Jan. 1, 1955, are professional engineers, accountants, architects and funeral directors.

Immediately effective is the increase in monthly payments to persons now getting benefits. These increases will show on the September checks which will be mailed early in October.

The present minimum payment of $25 to a retired worker has been raised to $30; the maximum of $85 has been increased to $98.50. Dependents and survivors now getting monthly benefits will get proportionate increases with every family unit assured an increase of at least $5. The maximum family payment has been raised from $168.75 to $200.

Persons now receiving monthly payments do not have to take any action to get these increases, Miss Miller declared. They will be made automatically, and do not have to be applied for, she said.

The amended law also provides increases for persons who become eligible for benefit payments in the future. Beginning with 1955, the amount of covered earnings which may count toward social security will be raised from $3,600 to $4,200 in a year.

Another provision in the new law permits a worker to drop out up to five years of lowest (or no) earnings in the figuring of his average monthly wage on which benefit payments will be based. The amended law, moreover, provides a new formula for figuring the worker's insurance payment.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1955, all beneficiaries under 72 years of age may have earnings up to $1,200 in a year without loss of any benefits. This applies to all earnings of any kind, whether covered by social security or not. After reaching age 72, the beneficiary may

More than that, it is to be hoped that union labor, as represented by the Central Labor Union, will continue a record of fair negotiations and demonstrate a sincere desire to resolve an issue on which the fate of so many people, served by so many charitable agencies, rests.

Seven Defendants Appear Before Judge Davis For Sentencing

Strong Fined; Jail Sentence Is Suspended

ELEVEN MEN were brought before President Judge Fred W. Davis yesterday—seven of them for sentencing on charges ranging from prison breach to car theft.

On the prison breach charge, Lewis E. Strong, 26, Elkhart, Ind., was ordered to pay a $200 fine, and received a suspended sentence.

President Judge Fred W. Davis ordered Strong to report to probation officer J. Clarence Shafer once every six months. The fine must be paid in six months.

Present in court was Strong's friend, J. D. Welch, Reiders, who ranged for Strong's $600 bail on the charges originally, later had to make a trip to Elkhart to induce Strong to return to Monroe to face the charge.

Welch was designated as a special probation officer by Judge Davis, and Strong was instructed to report to Welch at a time designated by him.

Jack Brink, Anomalink, was sentenced to 23 months in the county jail on a morals charge. He was arrested by police who said at least one minor was involved in the case.

Brink was ordered to pay a $100 fine. His commitment was ordered to run from April 27, the date he was jailed. Judge Davis said he had received a report from the State Welfare Department, and that it was recommended that Brink be sentenced under the new sex offenders act. Judge Davis also said he was following a recommendation that Brink be held at the county jail.

Sentence was deferred against Bruce Johnson, 19, Delaware, N. J., who pleaded guilty this week of stealing the car of Ellen Hoffman, 256 Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

"Tell me why you took this car," Judge Davis said.

"I don't know, sir," was Johnson's only answer.

Johnson said he was under the jurisdiction of the State Welfare Department of New Jersey. When Judge Davis asked him if he had been in trouble before, Johnson said no, it was because his mother died when he was four years old and his father couldn't afford to keep him.

Johnson had been working as kitchen-help in Delaware Water Gap at the time of the theft Sept. 2.

Judge Davis said, "This needs further investigation... sentence deferred until the regular term of court."

Roy R. Van Why, 198 Meyers St., East Stroudsburg, offered an explanation of why he was caught driving a car April 3 while his license was under suspension.

He said he had been in the Army—in Germany—since 1950 and had just been released. "I thought you could drive for 90 days after you got discharged, on a G. I. license," he said. "I'd put in for a new license already when this happened."

Van Why's original suspension was for drunken driving, according to his statement.

Judge Davis suspended sentence, placed Van Why on probation for six months, and ordered him to pay $200 to the use of Monroe County.

Following pleas of guilty to charges of drunken driving and leaving an accident scene, Norman Van Horn Jr., who said he lived at 45 E. Broad St., East Stroudsburg, received a $300 fine on the drunken driving charge and $100 fine and a suspended sentence on the hit-and-run violation. He was placed on probation for one year.

Van Horn, a house painter, was ordered held in county jail until the fines are paid.

A plea of guilty was made by Bruce D. Hoover, 27, Canadensis, charged with failing to stop at the scene of a Sunday morning crash near his village.

Hoover was ordered to pay a $200 fine, received a suspended sentence, was placed on three-year probation and was told to report to Shafer every three months. He was also informed, police said, that he must take the liability insurance before he is permitted to drive in Pennsylvania again.

A case was continued against Franklin Strunk, 18, Mountain home, charged by his mother and aunt with assault and battery. There had been a July 30 hearing on the case. District Attorney Elmer D. Christine said the mother and aunt had telephoned on Aug. 31, and said they wished to drop the assault and battery charge.

The district attorney pointed out that the youth had been jailed by the court for violation of probation from the State Industrial School at Camp Hill.

The district attorney was instructed to contact Camp Hill authorities to discuss putting Strunk back in the State school. Meanwhile the youth was returned to county jail.

Also returned to county jail was Robert Prince Jr., 24, Durham, N. C., who had pleaded guilty earlier this week of leaving the scene of an accident.

Prince told Judge Davis under questioning that he had taken the car of his employer, Floyd Raskin, operator of Malibu Dude Ranch, Milford, and started to town. He said he had been drink-

Sheraton Corp. Leased Famed Astor Hotel

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Sheraton Corp. of America today bought into the famous Astor Hotel, landmark of Manhattan's Times Square.

Ernest Henderson, president of the chain, which controls hotel and real estate properties estimated at 132 million dollars, announced the transaction.

Sheraton acquired its interest from a syndicate headed by Webb & Knapp, which acquired the property from the William Waldorf Astor Estate.

In that transaction, William Zeckendorf, head of Webb & Knapp, and his associates acquired a two-year lease on the hotel, and an option to purchase it within the two-year period at a specified price.

Robert K. Christenberry, operator of the Astor, is New York boxing commissioner. He is a Summer resident of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa.

ing. He recalled "sort of blacking out."

Judge Davis asked if this was the result of his drinking or of injuries received in the accident. Prince said he guessed it was both.

The judge deferred "disposition of this matter" until a pending Pike County charge against Prince is disposed of. The Pike charge is car theft, resulting from the same incident.

Two men were purged of contempt of court and freed from jail. One was Vernon Hinelein, East Stroudsburg, who had been in jail on the charge since Aug. 10. He was committed after failing behind in support payments for his two children.

Asked where he had been living before going to jail, Hinelein replied, "Oh, around."

The defendant said he had been unable to keep up payments. Judge Davis peered at him and inquired if he had "assumed any other obligations" than supporting his two children.

Hinelein shook his head. "Not that I know of."

Under further questioning, Hinelein recalled that he was living with "a housekeeper" before he was jailed. Judge Davis suggested that a man who had trouble keeping up support payments could ill afford a housekeeper.

He ordered Hinelein to pay costs of the case within 30 days and to report to the probation officer monthly.

Also purged of contempt was Gerald Shick, who had been jailed since Aug. 4, according to Sheriff Jacob F. Altomose. Shick was ordered to pay costs within 10 days, and continue payments of $15 a week for support of his family.

A parole was granted to William Schoonover, 23, jailed April 27 with a five-month sentence and $100 fine. He pleaded guilty on a charge to turning in false fire alarms.

Judge Davis ordered payment of the fine and costs.

Court was adjourned until 9 a. m. Sept. 27.

25 Stitches Required To Close Wounds

TWENTY-FIVE stitches were required to close gashes in a truck driver whose vehicle crashed into a tree at 4:30 p.m. yesterday on Route 300 at Canadensis.

He was Henry Karpinski, Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y., who was driving toward Skytop when, he said, an oncoming car forced him off the road.

When his panel truck hit the tree the driver was thrown out onto the highway, said Pfc. Joseph Mekuta of Mount Pocono substation. He was found there unconscious by a woman motorist who telephoned police.

An ambulance moved Karpinski to the Canadensis office of Dr. Harold Tattersall, who took eight stitches in the trucker's scalp, and 17 in his right leg.

Damages to the truck were estimated at $500.

Insurance Men Hold Seminar At Skyline Inn

MOUNT POCONO — Personnel from the Camden, N. J., Binghamton, N. Y., and Harrisburg, Pa., districts of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., held their annual seminars at Skyline Inn here over the weekend, with about 145 agents and wives from the three districts attending.

Conducting the business sessions were Harold Peterson, district manager of the Camden group, J. Nelson Young of the Binghamton group and Maxwell R. Porter of the Harrisburg district.

About 120 agents, assistants and their families from the Staten Island and Yonkers districts of the company, under J. James Matrullo and John F. Meehan, will arrive at Skyline Inn Sept. 17 for the weekend.

Clark Urges New Approach To Government

SHAWNEE—Philadelphia Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. called for a positive approach to government in which "far more attention should be given to... bringing competent men and women into public office."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the final session of the Governmental Research Association's 40th annual conference at Shawnee Inn, Clark also declared that, once competent officeholders have been brought into government they should be given "sufficient authority to accomplish their objectives."

Clark began his address before more than 200 GRA members by commending the research groups for their "record contributions" to American government.

"I for one have reason to be grateful for the substantial help which our Philadelphia groups have made to the success of Philadelphia's present city administration," he said. "You have helped our City government leave the roque's gallery and rehabilitate itself as a respectable member of society."

Although research has accomplished many things in the administration of government, he continued, the time has come for a reassessment of attitudes toward government in general.

"Tonight I should like to make two major suggestions to your group," Clark said. "They stem from my view that government at the local, state and national level in American changed drastically with the advent of the Roosevelt administration, and that change, in my judgment, requires a rather important orientation of the thinking of agencies whose purpose is to improve performance of government at all levels."

"The welfare state is not a future threat to frighten conservatives. It is actually here today. Granted a respite from World War III, it is here to stay," Clark said.

The primary concern of government, he indicated, is the welfare of all its citizens. "The function of government is to make the community it serves a decent and human place to live at bearable cost to its citizens."

Although governmental research organizations "have traditionally been concerned with problems of efficiency and economy, usually at low levels of administration... they must convert themselves into compassionate participants in the task of bringing Christian ethics to bear on governmental problems," Clark declared.

"In short, my first suggestion is that you should think of human beings first and taxpayers second," Clark said.

He urged the delegates to work toward bringing better-equipped men and women into government, pointing out that this practice has already begun in many cities and states.

"The emphasis should be away from restraints on administrators—checks and balances and the like. You should get away from the old-fashioned assumption that the machinery of government is administered largely by knaves or fools," he asserted.

"The emphasis should be on social and administrative accomplishment, not on preventing embezzlements. I do not think human nature has changed—I merely believe that we must take the calculated risk of delegating the same authority to office holders as we do to corporation executives or labor leaders if we expect modern democracy to provide satisfactory government in the atomic age," Clark said.

Dr. John M. Yetter, 86, Former Superintendent Of Monroe County Schools, Dies

DR. JOHN M. YETTER, 86, died at 10 a.m. yesterday at his Smithfield Township residence near Marshalls Creek.

He was a son of the late Martin and Maria Bartron Yetter, Smithfield Township. He was a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers College, and Muhlenberg College in Allentown. He received his degree of doctor of pedagogy at New York University.

He was professor at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for some years, and was a former teacher in Monroe County public schools.

He was active in the literary field, having written two volumes of poems and two books, "The Educational System of Pennsylvania," and "The Steps of the Saviour." He was a former Monroe County superintendent of schools, and was responsible for the introduction of music courses in county schools.

After retiring, he moved to St. Petersburg, Fla. The doctor returned to Monroe County last April because of poor health.

He was a member of J. Simpson Africa Lodge of Masons; Knights of Malta; Kresgeville POS of A; Pennsylvania State POS of A.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Simon Schoonover, East Stroudsburg; a brother, Luther M. Easton; several nieces and nephews.

Services will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg, with Rev. Jacob Kistler officiating. Burial will be at Prospect Cemetery, East Stroudsburg.

Masonic rites will be performed at graveside.

Police Open Drive Against 'Hotrodders'

A CRACKDOWN on "hotrodders" was begun last night in the Canadensis region by filing of reckless driving charges against Lynn Price, 19, Cresco.

The information was lodged with Justice of the Peace Henry Price of Cresco by Pfc. Joseph Mekuta of the Mount Pocono substation.

Keluta said police will recommend a maximum fine of $25 in the event of a finding of guilty.

State police have received dozens of complaints about hot rod drivers speeding and driving recklessly in and around the mountain area villages and resorts, squealing tires, and using illegal muffler cut-outs. Police said the charges against Price mark only a beginning of the campaign against "hot-rodding" in the area.

$1,400 Loss In Accident On Route 209

DAMAGES TOTALED $1,400 at 3 p.m. yesterday when a car spun and rolled over on Route 209 about two miles northwest of East Stroudsburg.

Trooper Don Henzey of Stroudsburg listed the driver as Arthur Wallman, Far Hills, Long Island, N. Y., whose late-model auto rolled three times before coming to rest. The crash was near Laurel Court. Wallman was not injured seriously, police said, and required no hospitalization.

Dr. E. O. Hendrick of Mt. Pocono, will be out of town from Sept. 19 until Sept. 27.

Slain Woman's Sister Takes Stand At Trial

WILKES-BARRE — The Commonwealth sought yesterday to prove through testimony from the victim's sister that the body of Mrs. Dorothy Casey Gilhool may have been hidden in a Harvey's Lake building where her alleged slayer lived while a frantic search was being made for the missing woman last December.

The late Mrs. Gilhool was the wife of Joseph C. Gilhool, operator of a casino at Harvey's Lake. Both formerly lived in Monroe County and operated a hotel at Blakeslee, Pa.

Miss Joan Casey, 27, Luzerne, Pa., a sister of the dead woman was on the witness stand most of yesterday—called by District Attorney Louis Feldman who is prosecuting Paul Graver, handsome 42-year-old Lehighman.

Graver was employed by Mrs. Gilhool's husband in the casino operation.

Mrs. Gilhool, attractive 42-year-old Kingston brunette, disappeared early on the morning of Dec. 17, 1953. She was last seen alive as she left a drinking party at Not-hoff's Cafe, an establishment near the casino, her husband's business place.

Late the following afternoon her beaten and partly frozen body was discovered on the frozen earth and rock at a boat dock not far from the scene of the ill-fated party.

Under questioning, Miss Casey testified that she, Graver and Mrs. Florence Abenmoha were seated in the soda fountain of the casino the day after the woman disappeared.

Miss Casey testified that she heard three thumps on the ceiling overhead and said they sounded as though they came from a room where prizes were maintained for games played at the casino.

She said they went to the room but could see nothing but boxes.

Coroner Edward J. Keeler testified Tuesday that the woman died of cerebral hemorrhage. He admitted under cross-examination that the hemorrhage could have been brought on by a fall as well as a blow.

Miss Beers Describes Experiences

MISS CONNIE BEERS, East Stroudsburg, who was selected as "Miss Pocono" in the Junior Jinx contest sponsored by The Daily Record at Shawnee Inn last month, related her experiences at the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club meeting yesterday afternoon.

Miss Beers told of the contest in New York City, conducted by Ted and Jinx TV producers in which all the contestants were required to tell their desires five years from now, also the appearance on TV, which she described as thrilling.

The young lady also presented a scene from Henry VanDyke's "The Mansion" in a manner which brought her much praise. Presented by Dr. C. W. Dupee, the president, Miss Beers was presented with an orchid corsage. Edward H. Laesser was program chairman. Miss Beers, who hopes to have a part in entertainment as a career, will enter Yale University this month to major in music.

Announcement was made that the divisional caucus for the nomination of a candidate for lieutenant governor for the 17th division would be held at Bethlehem Thursday, Sept. 23, at 1:30 p.m. with Lt. Gov. M. W. VanBillerik in charge. The delegates will attend the Bethlehem club noon meeting that day.

Numa J. Snyder, club organizer, was welcomed back to the club after having attended Penn State University during the summer where he received his master's degree in music.

President Dupee welcomed Kiwanian Wilmer Francis, of the Paterson, N. J. club, and Owen G. Wood, of Bristol, Va.

Large Industry To Increase Size Of Plant

ALLENTOWN, Sept. 15 (AP) — A multi-million dollar building program will soon increase the size of the Western Electric Co. plant here from its present 400,000 square feet to a total of 700,000 square feet of floor space.

The company currently employs 2,700 persons in the manufacture of electronics products. The extra production space is needed, company spokesmen said, to meet the constantly expanding use of those products in the Bell Telephone System.

The new facilities will be given over specifically to the manufacture of transistors, varistors, gas diodes and traveling wave tubes among other products.

Upon completion of the expansion program, the company intends to add about 1,000 employees to its payroll, officials said.

Federal Trade Agency Suggests Cigarette Industry Abandon References To Health In Ads, Limit Claims To Opinions

By FRANK O'BRIEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission today asked the cigarette industry to consider abandoning references to health in its advertising and to limit cigarette sales appeals generally to quality, taste, flavor and enjoyment.

The proposals were made in a letter sent to all cigarette manufacturers by Charles E. Grandey. He is director of the FTC's new Bureau of Consultation, set up to foster agreements between FTC and industry without litigation.

By implication, the proposal put cigarette makers on notice that FTC might soon apply blanket disapproval against all advertising appeals, direct or indirect, "which are questionable in light of present day scientific knowledge."

The FTC letter made no specific mention of the current controversy over whether cigarette smoking can be linked to a rise in lung cancer, but said:

"The spirit in which the industry has entered into the effort to resolve the scientific questions currently presented leads us to the belief that the industry... will consider this an especially propitious time to effect voluntary cessation of every questionable claim and implication in its advertising."

The offer to agree, industry wide, on advertising standards that would be acceptable to FTC was the latest move in a long series of skirmishes between FTC and cigarette makers. Over the last 12 years the FTC has brought complaints against some aspect of the advertising of every major cigarette manufacturer. Many complaints covered claims of the kind that FTC suggested today the industry avoid. FTC polices cigarette and other advertising under its mandate from Congress to guard against "false and misleading advertising."

Grandey asked for comments from the industry on the feasibility of establishing the standards, and suggestions on the standards themselves.

Claims that one cigarette is preferable to another, he said, should be "generally limited to subjects of quality, taste, flavor, enjoyment and other similar matters of opinion."

Two-County School Institute Scheduled For Next Monday

Monroe-Pike Teachers To Hold Sessions

AN INSTITUTE for Monroe and Pike County teachers will be held Monday at State Teachers College. It is the first joint institute ever held for educators in both counties. Monroe School Superintendent John C. Litts and Pike Superintendent R. Lloyd Jones have cooperated in setting up the conference.

The institute opens at 8:30 a.m. Monday with registration at the campus training school. Litts and Jones will greet the teachers in opening exercises in the college auditorium at 8:50 a.m. Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, president of the college, will give devotions.

At 9:05 the group will split into two sections—one of elementary teachers; the other for secondary teachers. Elementary teachers will hold sectional meetings in the laboratory school. Secondary teachers will meet in several locations on campus.

The following elementary instruction topics have been announced: Grade one—"Experience Charts" by Mary Barnett with Mrs. Elizabeth Richards as chairman; grade two—Jane Hoffman, topic to be announced, Mrs. Alys Morton, chairman; grade three—Elizabeth Willey, topic to be announced, Mrs. Dagny DeNike, chairman; grade four—"Usage Instruction and Oral Language Habits," Harold Huber with Joseph Kulick as chairman; grade five—"Increasing Children's Vocabulary," Kathleen Wise with Ralph Knuff as chairman; grade six—"Communication Skills of the Language Arts," Helen Shaeffer with Mrs. Christine Reese, chairman.

Morning conferences for secondary teachers include a general session from 9:05 to 9:50 a.m. with Elizabeth Warnock, specialist in civics in the State Department in charge. The session will be held in the auditorium.

Sectional meetings begin at 10:20 a.m. These are scheduled: Administrators—Harry T. Young, chairman, discussing "Report Cards" and "Looking Ahead to 1955 Legislation" with Dr. John Lumley, deputy superintendent of the State Department in charge, Room 3, Shawnee Hall.

Commercial—Mrs. Roberta Roan, chairman, discussing "Problems and Trends in Present Day Business Education" with William Selden, chief of business education in the State Department, in the principal's office of the laboratory school.

English and foreign languages—Mrs. Thelma D. Metz, chairman and two discussions: "English for College Preparatory Courses" by M. L. Howe, Easton High School and "Correlation in English and Latin Programs," by Mrs. Martha

MRS. MARGARET DEIBEL falls asleep on a mountain of letters at her home in Mount Pleasant, Mich., after an unexpected appearance on a TV show started a bonanza of nickels by mail. IN THE COMIC STRIPS and the movies, the usual plot line shows how the brainy mouse outsmarts the slow-witted cat. Not wanting to be non-conformists, we here present, in three acts, the same old story, only

Smyth Resigns From Atomic Commission

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER, Sept. 15 (AP)—President Eisenhower "very reluctantly" accepted today the resignation of Dr. Henry D. Smyth as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission and appointed a University of Chicago atomic scientist to succeed him.

Smyth, 56, said in his letter of resignation that the United States has a stockpile of hydrogen and atomic bombs which, in the event of enemy attack, "would assure this country and the free world the capacity to answer with overwhelming power."

He plans to return to Princeton University where he was a faculty member from 1924 to 1949. A university spokesman said Smyth will become chairman of the board of Scientific and Engineering Research in a few weeks.

The Summer White House announced Eisenhower is naming Dr. Willard Frank Libby, 45, to succeed Smyth, effective Sept. 30.

Smyth was named to the commission by President Truman May 31, 1949, for a term expiring June 30, 1956.

He joined other Truman-appointed commissioners in opposing a proposal to give Chairman Lewis L. Strauss legal position as the commission's principal officer. The move was beaten and the members retain equal authority on policy matters.

Smyth told the President that "the mutual destruction possible to all nations through modern atomic weapons gives an argument of great force to thoughtful men everywhere who seek to build peace."

Smyth told the President that much has been achieved in the direction of peacetime uses of atomic energy, and that private industry "can and must play an increasing part" in such experiments.

Libby is a chemistry professor at University of Chicago and is associated with its Institute of Nuclear Studies. His appointment is subject to Senate confirmation after Congress reconvenes in January.

earn any amount and still receive benefits.

The amended act also provides for the preservation of the benefit rights of the totally disabled. Under this provision a worker's earnings record can be "frozen" and he will not suffer a reduction in or loss of his benefit rights because of an extended period of no earnings due to total and prolonged disability.

In conclusion, Miss Miller called attention to a provision in the amended law which affects survivors of workers who died before Sept. 1, 1950, without having acquired enough covered employment to become insured under the old law.

"If you are the surviving aged widow, child, widowed mother with minor children, or aged parent of a worker who died between 1939 and Sept. 1, 1950, and you were not eligible for survivor's benefits before," Miss Miller said, "the new law may make it possible for you to get payments. If the deceased breadwinner in your family had at least 1½ years of covered work between January 1939 and September 1950, you should come to the Easton social security office and inquire about your survivors insurance benefit rights."

Work Of Santi Family With War Refugees Is Lesson In 'Applied Christianity'

(James H. Ottaway Jr. is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ottaway, of Endicott, N. Y., and Buck Hill Falls, Pa., publishers of The Daily Record. He is one of 13 young people in the Christian Youth Caravan who will visit England, France, Greece, Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Italy and the Netherlands. Purpose of the Christian Youth Caravan is to create better understanding between the United States and the people of the countries visited, especially the youth.)

By JAMES H. OTTAWAY JR.

CASA MATERNA ORPHANAGE, NAPLES, ITALY—The Caravan is back in Europe. The Middle East is behind us. No more Turkish toilets, dirty food and beggars crying for money. We will miss the colorful dress, and warm hospitality of all our wonderful friends we left behind. Still, we feel safer and more relaxed here in Europe.

We have a wonderful experience to tell about! We have seen many of the world's greatest cities like

James H. Ottaway Jr.

Eastern Mediterranean.

Best of all, we had the excitement of living in a completely different atmosphere and culture, just learning different money systems was interesting.

We were in the hottest part of the world during the worst heat wave in twenty years. As soon as we sailed through the Corinth Canal the climate became cooler. I felt my first shiver in two months! We even saw some rain!

The Caravan arrived at the Casa Materna Orphanage in Naples, Italy, Saturday, Aug. 28. The next morning we visited the ancient Roman city of Pompeii, which was covered by ashes from the nearby Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A. D.

We enjoyed the relics because they were in their natural places and more alive than a museum.

I might add that we have seen enough wonders of the ancient world for awhile. From the Roman Walls in London to the Sphinx in Egypt to Pompeii and Rome, we have seen a lot of the world's history. We are saturated with relief!

After Pompeii, we drove to beautiful Sorrento on the south shore of the Bay of Naples. The green country-side and grapes growing everywhere form a sharp contrast to the desert brown of the Middle East. We bought music boxes in the town of Sorrento and returned to Casa Materna.

Sunday afternoon the children's band of the home played "The Star Spangled Banner" and gave us a warm welcome. It was heartwarming to see what the Santi Family has done for the war refugees and homeless children of Italy.

The next day we took the famous trip to the Isle of Capri! The many-colored flowers and steep cliffs made Capri seem like a dream!

A guitar player in a cafe played us some light and airy Italian folk songs. How much more pleasant Italian music is than the weird sounds of Oriental tunes.

At Casa Materna, we have seen first-hand what faith and hope have done for the needy of this world. We learned a lesson of "applied Christianity" in the wonderful work that the Santi Family is doing in Naples.

We left Tuesday for Rome and are now seeing the sights of this fascinating, old city.

Basic Course Planned For Scoutmasters

WILLIAM WIDEHAM has been appointed as a neighborhood commissioner in Pocono District, Boy Scouts of America. It was reported at a district meeting this week.

Need for a district scoutmaster's basic training course was stressed by Dr. T. Edward Terrill, chairman of leader training. He went on to report he expects to organize one sometime in September.

Progress toward organization of a cub pack at Hamilton Square was described by Dr. Francis G. McGarry, chairman of organization and extension committee.

Dr. McGarry also reported that Troop 81 and Cub Pack 81 of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, and Troop 91 of Tobyhanna Lions Club, are due to register in October.

He said the county-wide scouting program now has a total of 435 boys enrolled.

Wild life will again be promoted by the scouts, said Jacob Kintz, chairman of camping and activities

Revolutionary Type-Setting Machine Put Into Operation

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 15 (AP)—The Quincy Patriot Ledger yesterday announced the first commercial installation of photon, a revolutionary photographic type-composing machine.

The photon process imposes characters on rolls of film, by-passing all present conventional processes of getting news from an editor's desk to the pressroom.

The Patriot Ledger installation has been under test at the newspaper, and specimens of the photon machine's work have been appearing unobtrusively this week in the paper's pages alongside material set on traditional linecasting machines using hot metal.

Manufacturers of photon claim that it works two and a half times faster than present type-setting processes, and is the most rapid process devised in the five-cent committee.

John Wagner, institutional representative, told the officials there are now 30 active cubs in Pack 97 and that 12 have been graduated into Troop 197 of Grace Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. The troop had 39 scouts and explorers, and four leaders at Camp Weygand for a week of training this summer.

Dr. Edwards Of Lafayette To Speak At DAR Luncheon

Jacob Stroud Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will open their Fall meetings with a luncheon at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Monday, October 20, at 1 p.m.

Dr. Richard A. Edwards, associate professor of Government and Law, of Lafayette College, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "The Supreme Court and the Constitution." Dr. Edwards has contributed many articles on constitutional law to learned periodicals and is co-author of a text book for political science courses, "American Constitutional Law." He collaborated with Noel T. Downing, Harlan Fiske Stone, Professor of Constitutional Law at Columbia University on the coursebook.

Dr. Edwards received his A.B. degree from Indiana University, his LL.B. from Harvard University and his Ph.D. in political science and government from Columbia University. He taught at Rutgers University before coming to Lafayette.

The neighboring chapters of the DAR have been invited to attend the luncheon. Cards for reservations have been sent to all local members who are asked to return them as soon as possible to Mrs. Nelson Westbrook, or to call her for their reservations.

Hostesses for the luncheon are Mrs. Nelson Westbrook and Mrs. Mary Cottle, co-chairmen; Mrs. George Dunning, Mrs. Frank LeBar, Mrs. Jules Franks, and Mrs. T. F. Rhodes.

Antiques Show Nets Hospital More Than $800

The General Hospital of Monroe County benefitted by more than $800 from the Antique Show and Sale held in August under the auspices of the General Hospital Auxiliary. It was reported at the auxiliary meeting held this week at the home of Mrs. Russell Inbt, Craigs Meadow.

Mrs. Inbt was assisted as hostess by Mrs. C. W. Dupe, Mrs. W. Grady Moore and Mrs. Fred Davis.

College Music In The Mountains

Some of the music in the Pocono Mountains in September will come from pre-season college training sessions. The 70 piece Bucknell University Marching Band, now in its third annual training week in the Poconos under the direction of Allen W. Flook, will give a concert in the auditorium of The Inn at Buck Hill Falls on Sept. 16.

The New York University Glee Club will hold its 18th annual training camp at Pocono Crest Sept. 19 to 26 under the baton of Alfred M. Greenfield, the club's director for the past 30 years, and give its regular yearly concert there on Sept. 25.

Two Families Tour New England

Mr. and Mrs. John Neipert and daughters, Dorothy and Susan, of Stroudsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Williams and daughters, Kathleen and Donna Jean, of Cresco, have returned from a trip to Lake George.

Among the points of interest they visited were Fort Ticonderoga, Ausable Chasm, the granite quarries and the maple sugar industries, Crawford Notch and the capitals of Vermont and New Hampshire.

On their return, Susan Neipert was honored at a birthday party given by her cousin, Mrs. Lela Peter, of Orange, N. J.

Penna. Dutch Film To Be Shown Saturday

A new color moving picture in the series on the Pennsylvania Dutch which Charles and Carrye Noss of York have presented with such success in this area will be shown at the Mount Pocono Methodist Church on Saturday, September 18, at 8:15.

The Noss films are unique in that they show in color scenes from the Amish life, who permitted the Nosses to make the film only after long acquaintance. What started as a hobby has developed into an unusual service. Refusing to commercialize his films, Mr. Noss handles all the expense of showing the pictures and giving the narration so that all proceeds go to the church groups by which it is sponsored.

Similar Noss films have been shown at Pocono Manor with great success in the past. New pictures and enthusiasm for past performances are expected to draw a big local audience.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the church or at the door on Saturday night.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seems as if I sold myself a bill of goods. All that talk of seeing what you look at sort of convinced me that you miss a lot when you go around so preoccupied with plans for the future that your eyes are thus closed to the things of the immediate present.

Well, yesterday, admittedly, was no day to be looking too closely at. However, between swishes of the windshield wiper, you could see the berries turning red on the dogwood trees, the crackleberries gleaming white as wax, and whole fields looking sun-struck, even in the rain, so yellow they are with goldenrod.

If goldenrod were some difficult plant to grow in a garden, we'd probably appreciate it more. As it is we just blame it for hay fever and otherwise ignore it. Incidentally, it's a very hardy plant.

And while the rain might have made us wet and uncomfortable, you'll have to admit that the lawns have come back in a way that would have seemed impossible during their sun-baked yellow days in summer.

And for the life of me those are the only good things I could notice about the countryside yesterday.

—Listen To— Bobby Westbrook on the Party Line over WVPO every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:05 a.m.

Panel Named For First PTA Meeting

East Stroudsburg Parent Teachers Association will open its new year with a meeting on Monday night, September 21 in the East Stroudsburg Junior High School.

The program will feature a panel discussion on "Children and Our Community." Featured on the panel will be Mayor Jesse Flory who will discuss the community; Dr. Frederick Jones, school physician, who will speak on the health of the children; Rev. Frank Wingerter of the Presbyterian Church who will speak on spiritual attitudes and Dr. Francis McGarry of the college faculty will speak on organizations which help in learning.

David Miller, president, urges parents of all children in the East Stroudsburg school system, to attend the meeting which will begin at 8 o'clock and which will be followed by refreshments.

Film On Roses Shown At Bushkill Garden Club

Bushkill—The Bushkill Garden Club held their monthly meeting at the firehouse at which time a representative of a meat company showed films on the "Culture and Care of Roses" also "Pests that Attack Flowers and Vegetables, and Remedies."

Mrs. Charles M. Fisher conducted the meeting. Members voted to send a gift of appreciation to Mrs. Natalie Bowen, noted horticulturist of New York City, who recently gave an illustrated lecture on "Christmas Decorations" for the benefit of the club members.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Charles M. Fisher and Mrs. J. Russell Eschback who served refreshments from a buffet decorated with late summer flowers. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Hilda B. Wells and will feature a talk by Dr. Edna Rosenkrans of Sussex, N.J.

Class Election At Pocono Twp.

Hennryville—Newly-elected reporter, Harrison Stewart, has reported that the eighth grade class of the Pocono Township School held election of officers on Friday, Sept. 10. The following were elected:

President, Linda Strand; vice president, Larry Starn; secretary, Ruth Warner; treasurer, Joyce Hay.

These were elected chaplains: Jane Law, Joan Spragle, Carol Peechaka, Judy Singer, Ronald Shick, William Scharf, Harrison Stewart was elected reporter for the class.

D. Of A. Friday

Victoria Council, Daughters of America will meet on Friday night at 8 at the Odd Fellows Hall. Members are requested to bring articles of handwork and aprons to the meeting which will be held at the bazaar at the state session on September 29 through 31 for the benefit of the Home for the Aged and the Orphanage.

Circle 3 Tonight

Circle 3 of the East Stroudsburg Methodist WSCS will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Newton Taylor Jr., Franklin Hill.

Here's a new vegetable combination—chopped cooked broccoli with finely diced cooked carrot. Season with butter or margarine, lemon juice, salt and freshly-ground pepper.

Serve rice fritters with creamed mushrooms and a topping of crisp bacon for a company lunch. Broiled tomatoes and a cucumber salad are good go-alongs.

When a recipe calls for blanching a fruit or vegetable it means that the food should be preheated in boiling water or steam. Blanching is helpful in removing the skins from tomatoes and peaches.

Grace Guild Opens Year With Busy Meeting

The Woman's Guild of the Grace Lutheran Church launched their new year with a meeting Tuesday night with 42 members present. Mrs. Corey Bush presided. The attendance contest, now begun, showed that the Gold Team headed by Mrs. Jacob Nittle scored two points over Mrs. Alphonse Meyers Blue Team for this meeting. The roll call was taken by the secretary, Mrs. John Skeldorn.

Two members, Mrs. Ethel Quick and Mrs. Rudolph Mannheim, were reported on the sick list, and two visitors were introduced: Mrs. George Weitzman of West Berlin, N. J., and Mrs. A. C. Vosseler, of Washington, N. J.

Mrs. Raymond Arnold and Mrs. Lloyd Doll were appointed to serve as communion stewards on Sunday, October 3. The Guild plans to hold a restaurant in conjunction with the October Fair to be held October 28-29.

Mrs. Alphonse Meyers was appointed chairman of the restaurant and will be assisted by Mrs. Lewis Volkert, Mrs. John Wagner, Mrs. Morris Mursch and Mrs. Howard Kintner.

Plans were made for a pot luck dinner at the next meeting, Tuesday, September 28 with Miss Ellen Hoffman, Mrs. Nellie Meichner, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Harold Kraemer. The guild also plans to resume its work on cancer dressings.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Arnold, Mrs. Nathan Kishpaugh, Mrs. Louis Manzie, Mrs. George Merring and Miss Mary Kishpaugh.

Stroudsburg WSCS Hears Of Pocono Plateau

Highlights of the WSCS Summer conference at Pocono Plateau marked the opening meeting of the Stroudsburg Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service held at the church on Monday night. Mrs. Joseph Andre and Mrs. William Gorton, delegates, gave their reports.

Both of them emphasized the fellowship and inspiration gained from the conference. Mrs. Andre whose study course was on "Christianity and Wealth" outlined that theme and told of the corsages of pennies and ribbons at their closing session. Mrs. Gorton's study was "Under Three Flags," in which they studied Ceylon, Pakistan and India. There were 131 women at the Plateau.

Opening devotions at the local meeting were led by Mrs. Paul Fetherman on the theme "Cities." She was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. John Pyle and Mrs. Jerome Elwell. Mrs. Joseph Yutz sang "The Holy City."

Mrs. Harold Stiff, president, was in charge of the business meeting and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Society Of 28th And Auxiliary Installation

The auxiliary to Gateway Post No. 56, Society of the 28th Division will meet at the American Legion Home on Sunday at 1 p.m. Joint installation will be held with the men of Gateway Post. Many of the national officers will be present and the president, Sarah Frantz, has asked all auxiliary members to be present. A buffet supper will be served.

Use your double boiler to advantage in the summer. Here is one way of having it do double duty: cook rice in the bottom part and heat some dish such as creamed chicken in the top part while the rice is cooking.

For weight-watchers: moisten hard-cooked egg sandwiches with buttermilk instead of mayonnaise or some other rich salad dressing. Mash the eggs fine, add salt, pepper and a little finely grated onion to taste, then the buttermilk.

State Officers Honored By Sciota Rebekahs

Saylorsburg—State President of Rebekah lodges, Mrs. Sarah Koller, Philadelphia; Mrs. Mildred Krome, district deputy president, Gilbert; and Mrs. Anna M. Serfass, state color bearer, were honored Friday night at Sciota Rebekah Lodge No. 22.

Gifts were presented each by Mrs. Ethyl Rinker on behalf of the lodge. She was assisted by Mrs. Eva Knowles, who gave her message in form of song.

The hall was decorated in flowers for the occasion. Mrs. Mildred Cyphers, Bartonsville, was initiated into the lodge at this session.

During the social hour refreshments were served.

Sommers Family Reunion Held At Barrett

On Sunday the families descended from the late John and Caroline Sommers of Barrett Township met at the American Legion Home for their annual reunion. After a picnic lunch a business meeting was held with officers reelected for the coming year.

Lawrence Sommers, president; Mrs. Rudolph Bliz Jr., secretary-treasurer. Souvenir ceramic dishes were given to each family. The following were present:

Mr. and Mrs. B. Davis, Green Village, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. William Barrett, and children, Lynn, Barbara and John of Mountain Lakes, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. P. Peterson, Mrs. Ruth Conklin of Glen Gardner, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Bliz Jr., of East Stroudsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bliz Jr. and daughter, Barbara, of East Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Lew Manze and children, Linda, Nancy and Susan of Stroudsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sommers and son, Richard, Chester Sommers and Mrs. Laura Williams of Canadensis; Mrs. Emma Dean of Mountainhome, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller, of Analomink and Miss Gail Parsons of Mountain Lakes, N. J.

The auxiliary proposed having the hall cleaned once a month and Mrs. Bartram was designated to make these arrangements. The president's gift presented by Mrs. Bartram was awarded to Mrs. Lawrence J. Butz.

The firemen reported at their meeting that the heat had been completely installed and also that they were planning some future events for fund raising.

SPCA Annual Meeting Tonight

The annual meeting of the Monroe County SPCA will be held on Thursday night at 7:30 in the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

The feature of the meeting will be the showing of the movie "The Great Meddler," which is about the life of Henry Bergh, the man who pioneered the Humane Societies in the United States. Last February this was a Hall of Fame program on a nation-wide TV broadcast and proved very popular.

Election of officers and the report of the auditing committee will take place during a brief business session. Mrs. Ellen D. Albeni, president, urges a large attendance of members. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Willis Goddard and her committee.

Charity Gifts At Meeting Of VFW Aux.

The Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 2540, made many donations at their meeting on Monday night at the VFW Home with the president, Margaret Goldy, presiding.

They voted a donation of $50 to the Monroe County Community Chest; a donation of $10 to the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation, and a donation of $20 to the VFW Aux. Sweater and Shirt Fund for the hospitals.

Another community contribution is the volunteer work on cancer dressings. Grace Shook, reporting for the cancer chairman, Cecelia Hagerty, reported that dressings are needed very badly. She asked any members who have old sheets to see that the chairman gets them as soon as possible.

The department conference of auxiliary presidents, secretaries and treasurers will be held in Harrisburg early in October. It was announced, and any auxiliary member may attend.

The County Council report was given by Regina Weller of the meeting held at Bethlehem Post No. 855. Kathryn Weary, Grace Weller and Past District President Georgia Alberson were other local women at the council meeting.

A bake sale was planned with Ethel Dickinson as chairman. The auxiliary benefit for Wednesday was cancelled. Attendance prizes were presented to Grace Shook and Mary Arnold.

The next meeting will be held on September 27 for a social planned by the hospitality chairman.

Penny Supper Saturday

Brodheads—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the West End Fire Co. of Brodheads will serve a penny supper on Saturday, September 18, in the firehall in Brodheads. Chicken, baked ham and meat loaf, a choice of vegetables, homemade pies and cake will be served from 5 to 8 p.m.

Excursioners To See West Point Cadets On Parade

Those going along on the Wyckoff Annual Hudson River Excursion will have an opportunity to see the West Point Cadets in a Regimental Retreat Parade at 5:30 p.m. Monday. The Excursion boat will dock at West Point to give sightseers a treat around the Academy. Buses will be available at the boat to transport passengers to the parade grounds and return for a fare of 29 cents. A sightseeing trip in buses leaving from the boat and return which will cover all points of interest around the Academy is offered for one dollar twenty-five. There will also be an organ recital at 3:30 p.m. by organist Mr. F. C. Mayer and at 4 p.m. a movie "This Is West Point" will be shown in the Gymnasium Auditorium. Usually two trains are used to transport the party to Hoboken to board the liner Peter Stuyvesant for the all day cruise on the Hudson. Once on the liner a pleasant day is assured for all for then one can do just about as he pleases. Relaxing in the comfortable deck chairs, enjoying the scenery on both sides of the Hudson or going below deck to enjoy the music and fun afforded by the dance band which always accompanies the Wyckoff party. A cafeteria is available as well as a dining room where a full course meal may be obtained. A snack bar and gift shop are also kept busy. Local firemen go along on the trip to assure every one of ample protection. It is hoped that all those desiring to go on the cruise will obtain tickets as soon as possible so proper arrangements can be made with the railroad and boat company. Tickets are available in Wyckoff's Electric Shop at the Gift Wrapping Counter. Adult tickets are $5.00, Student tickets are $3.50.

Women Vote Support For Three Bills

THREE LIQUOR bills will be sponsored at the next legislative session, it has been decided by the Women's Branch of Monroe County Retail Liquor Dealers' Association.

Support was voted for these bills during a branch meeting this week at Werry's Sunnyside.

One — Protection for licensees against minors misrepresenting their ages, and legislation providing for arrest of minors on the premises at time of making a purchase, with minor or his parents liable for misdeemeanor.

Two — A 2 a.m. closing time on Saturday nights.

Three — Repeal of the "resort area" liquor license provision.

Branch members, under guidance of branch president Irene Werry, planned for a dinner-dance Nov. 31 at Bartonville Hotel, with proceeds going to benefit of the aged. Next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 7 at Pocono Gates.

Herrick Funeral Planned Friday

FUNERAL Services for Mrs. Kathryn W. Herrick will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the late home at Pocono Pines.

Friends may call at the residence tonight after 7. Mrs. Herrick died suddenly in Montoursville on Tuesday. She had been visiting her sister there.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, Albert E., are three sisters, Mrs. Harry Hartman, Montoursville; Mrs. Bert Miller, Dalton, and Alice Williams, Greensboro, N. C.

She was a member of the Congregational Church in Miners Mills.

New Hampshire Senator Is Defeated In Primary Voting

(Continued from Page One) Cabot Lodge two years ago, chose Foster Furcolo to run against Saltonstall, Furcolo, a former U.S. House member who now is state treasurer, outdistanced two primary opponents.

To run against Humphrey, Minnesota Republicans nominated State Treasurer Val Bjornson who likewise had little trouble with two opponents.

The Minnesota primary brought an upsurge in the Democratic-Farmer-Labor voting strength which DFL spokesmen promptly claimed was a "repudiation" of the Republican party. But the Republicans countered that a hotly contested DFL race for governor and strong organizational work—not interparty disputes—were the major factors in piling up the Democratic vote. Republican Gov. C. Elmer Anderson was unopposed for re-nomination.

With the primary claims still echoing, two of the national Republican party's top campaigners launched intensive speaking tours with a frank admission from GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall that the party is "running scared."

Vice President Nixon told a press breakfast in Washington that his party "might be behind" at this time, but both he and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) said they are confident the Republicans can hold control of Congress.

They spoke just before boarding planes for Columbus, Ohio, and Newark, N. J., respectively, to start building up Republican enthusiasm.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) didn't participate in the primary campaigns, but his name figured in some of them.

In Wisconsin, a strong McCarthy opponent, Fred R. Zimmerman, won GOP renomination as secretary of state over an opponent who ran with his party's blessing. And Dist. Atty. Harley Kelley, who waged a legal battle against efforts by the Joe-Must-Go club to defeat McCarthy from the Senate, was defeated by James R. Seering. The fight over the Joe-Must-Go club, headed by newspaper editor Levey Gore, was not mentioned by either side in the campaign.

In New York, Rep. Stuyvesant Wainwright II, who campaigned on an anti-McCarthy platform, scored a 4-1 victory over William P. Shea, a strong booster of the Wisconsin senator.

State Official To Be Speaker

SECRETARY of the Commonwealth Gene Smith will address a meeting at Bartonville Hotel Friday at 8 p.m. sponsored by the West End Republican Club.

The meeting will be supplemented by square dancing. Refreshments will be served to all comers.

Officers of the club invite all citizens to attend the meeting.

Air Reserve To Parade

MEMBERS of Flight B, Stroudsburg Air Reserve unit, have been invited to take part in the Black Diamond parade in Wilkes-Barre Sept. 20.

Members have also been invited to the 9543rd Squadron meeting that night at the GAR Memorial Hall in Wilkes-Barre.

The parade is to sponsor anthracite week in Wilkes-Barre.

Janice Wilder, Infant, Dies

JANICE WILDER, infant daughter of Howard and Anna Cruse Wilder, 210 Lockner Ave., Easton, former Stroudsburg residents, died at 7:30 a.m. yesterday at Easton General Hospital.

Surviving in addition to her parents are: a sister, Christine; brother, Howard Jr., both at home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cruse, East Stroudsburg; paternal grandfather, John Wilder, Syracuse, N. Y.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Friday at Lanterman funeral home, with Rev. Harold C. Eaton officiating. Burial will be at Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Maguire Emphasizes Importance Of Little League Baseball

Points Out Value To Growing Boys

Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association officials, thrilled a gathering of 140 people as guest speaker at the East Stroudsburg Little League banquet held here at the Mountain Lake House last night.

Maguire, speaking on the importance of Little League baseball, pointed out that the sport wasn't founded basically to make outstanding players, but rather to provide good health, good sportsmanship and good citizenship.

"Little League baseball develops left fielders and not left wingers and makes second and third basemen, not second and third class citizens," the PIAA stated.

"Little League baseball is major league baseball adapted to the mental and physical capacities of youth," Maguire added. "It's an education in athletics and one of our biggest weapons against juvenile delinquency," the popular after dinner speaker continued.

"The rate of juvenile delinquency is alarmingly high and at the present rate 1,600,000 young boys will have run afoul by 1960," Maguire informed the large gathering. He pointed out that Little League baseball is one of our main weapons in fighting crime among the younger generation.

Maguire congratulated league officials, team managers, players and members of the Little League Auxiliary for the fine job they have been doing in recent years.

The guest speaker was introduced by C. A. "Phiz" Nauman, vice president of the league and explain of the second basketball team that Maguire ever coached at East Stroudsburg High School.

Cliff Lambert, manager of the East Stroudsburg National Bank team, received the championship trophy on behalf of his club for the second straight year. The trophy was presented by Dr. Evan C. Reese, league president. The trophy was donated last year by the Marine Corps League.

All members of the all-star team and 12-year-old boys leaving the circuit this year were presented with certificates and buttons, as were league officials, team managers, umpires and scorekeepers. Reese, who served as toastmaster, and Nauman, gave the awards.

In closing Reese stated that the Ladies Auxiliary had presented the league with a cash gift of $500 and that this money would be placed in the circuit treasury to help cover improvements to the present field. The league plans to put a roof over the west stands before next season, construct a lavatory system, install a sprinkling system and improve the outfield.

J. Fielding Vollers gave the invocation, which was followed by a turkey dinner.

Brush Burn Iceberg Win

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 15 (AP)—Stanley Mikell's Brush Burn and W. Arnold Hanger's Iceberg II captured the first renewal of the American and Foreign Bred Stakes at Atlantic City today, qualifying for starting places in the $67,500 United Nations Handicap on September 29.

In the American Bred Stakes, Jarlyn Stables Closed Door was second and Brookmeade Stable's County Clare third. Fourth under the wire was C. Mahlon Kline's Kaster. Brush Burn, ridden by Donald Wagner, returned $15.00, $8.00 and $5.20.

In taking the Foreign Bred Stakes, Iceberg II, winner of the United Nations Handicap last year, made his move at the quarter pole on the outside and when urged by Jockey Contreras, got to the front and was never headed.

Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's Royal Vale, winner of this fixture last year, finished second, with Elmdorf stable's Blood Test third and Mrs. John Payson Adams' Impulsive, fourth.

Thus the invitational starting field for the United Nations Handicap, mile and three-sixteenths, will be the first four to finish in each of today's races.

Ehlers, Dykes Offered New Roles With Orioles

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP)—Paul Richards, new major domo of the down trodden Baltimore Orioles, said today the two men he replaced at Baltimore—Field Manager Jimmy Dykes and General Manager Art Ehlers—can remain in other Oriole positions.

Richards conferred this morning with Ehlers, who hurried from the east after yesterday's announcement that Richards resigned as Chicago White Sox manager to take complete charge at Baltimore for three years.

Ehlers can stay as a sort of assistant general manager with "wide and varied duties," Richards said, while Dykes can doff his uniform and serve in a "player

Defending Title Holder Takes Big Step In Amateur Tourney

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15 (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk, an imperturbable mudder from the land of Bobby Jones, struck a strong blow in defense of her Women's National Amateur golf championship today when she came from behind to defeat ex-titleholder Grace Lenzy on the 20th hole.

The Thomasville, Ga., bookkeeper, keeping her nerves and shots under firm control through a distracting drizzle, won on the second extra hole where Miss Lenzy, obviously tiring, half-scooped her approach, hit short with a wedge and took a bogey five.

Miss Faulk, meanwhile, hit two fine wood shots to the fat part of the green and got down in an easy four.

The match provided many dramatic moments for a gallery which almost completely ignored the other 15 contests.

On the 18th, after she had pulled even at the 16th, Miss Faulk saw a 12-foot putt hang into the cup and bounced out. On the 19th Miss Lenzy, 1944 champion from Newington, Conn., made a spectacular trap recovery from the dump sand and sank a seven-foot putt to stay alive.

Miss Faulk thus went into the round of 16 with a strong international field including Marlene Steyer, the little B. spectacular Canadian champion who also was carried over an extra hole; Philomena Carvey, the Irish golf queen; 19-year-old Janette Robertson, the pride of Scotland; Margaret (Wife) Smith of Guadalajara, Mexico, at 17 the youngest player in the tournament; and Mrs. Margarita DeMaglione of Argentina.

Miss Faulk's sixth round opponent tomorrow will be Miss Garvey, who eliminated the experienced Maureen Orcutt of Haworth, N.J., 3 and 2. Miss Stewart's next obstacle is Mrs. Maxon Berger of Buffalo, N.Y., better known around New York as Cookie Swift, who rang in putts of 10 and 12 feet on the final two holes to oust Mrs. A. H. Allen of Arlington, Va. 3 and 2.

Two rounds will be played tomorrow, reducing the field to four. The semifinals will be played Friday with the 36 hole championship match Saturday.

Cager Shines In Football

EAST LANSING, Mich., Sept. 15 (AP)—A skinny youth from Pennsylvania who was a sensation on the basketball court is making an impression as a Michigan State footballer, too.

He is Julius McCoy, of Farrell, Pa., a six foot two stringbean junior classman, who looks anything but an athlete and is trying out for an end job.

Despite all the competition at end, sideliners think McCoy will be seeing action with the Spartans this fall. He has a fine pair of hands—basketball teammates called him "Hooks"—and grabs passes well.

This is McCoy's first try at college football. Last year on the basketball court he set a new Michigan State individual scoring record with 401 points.

Hoopsters Take Ballet Lessons

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 15 (AP)—Don't be surprised if Oklahoma City University's basketball players show plenty of fancy footwork and unusual grace on the court this winter—the boys have taken up ballet.

Basketball Coach Doyle Parrack confirmed the rumor today and offered this quick explanation: "It's an experiment. I think there may be a correlation between the movements of the dance and basketball maneuvers, especially in jumps, post play and defense."

Parrack added he felt the two-a-week dance lessons would help his athletes perfect their foot work and timing.

He declared, however, that the 25 basketball players attending the free classes offered by a private dancing school "were doing so on their own."

John Ingram, whose petite wife operates the dance school and conducts the free lessons for the towering athletes, declared today the basketball players entered the dance hall "looking sheepish" for their first lesson last night.

"When they left," he added, "they were all sweating and moaning about the workout. They seemed to enjoy it, though."

Cardinals Edge Phillies Behind Poholsky, 3-1

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—A pair of doubles and an error were enough tonight for Tom Poholsky as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-1, seven-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phils and tightened the battle for fourth place in the National League.

The loss shoved the Phils back into fifth place, a half game behind the Cincinnati Reds who lost today to the Brooklyn Dodgers 10-4. The cards are in sixth place, a game behind Philadelphia.

Finishing in fourth place means a share of the world series loot, possibly as much as $1,000 per player this year.

St. Louis collected its first hit off Wehmeier in the fourth inning. It was a booming double off the left field wall by Stan Musial, who went to third on a fly and scored on "Rip" Repulski's deep grounder to short.

A single by Alex Grammas, followed by Poholsky's second sacrifice of the game and "Red" Schoendienst's double into center accounted for the second Card run in the fifth inning.

The Phils made it 2-1 in the sixth when Mel Clark tripled off the right field wall and scored on "Smoky" Burgess' sacrifice fly to center.

An eighth-inning error by Wehmeier helped the Cards get their last tally. Jablonsky started the inning by singling to center and Manager Eddie Stanky sent in Dick Schofield to run for him. Wehmeier threw wild trying to catch Schofield off first and the runner moved to second from where he scored on Bill Sarni's line drive single into left-center.

Local Court Squads In Tournament

SLATINGTON — Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High School basketball teams may clash three times in basketball this season, it was revealed last night at the Autumn meeting of the Lehigh Valley League here at Slatington High School.

It was revealed at the gathering that East Stroudsburg, Jim Thorpe, Weatherly and Summit Hill will be invited to the annual Lehigh Valley League Invitation Basketball Tournament at Smith Hall during the Christmas holidays. Stroudsburg, Catasauqua, Palmerton and Whitehall will represent the Lehigh Valley League.

Drawings may pit the Cavaliers and Mountaineers against each other in this tournament in addition to the two regularly scheduled meetings. Tournament dates are December 23, 27, 28 and 30.

Other items of business last night included awarding championship trophies to Whitehall for track and Slatington for baseball and discussion of football admission prices.

Mahlon Serfass, faculty athletic manager at Stroudsburg High School, announced following the meeting that the W. Main St. school would maintain the same prices as last year. This means that students will be admitted for 35 cents and adults for 75 cents. Tickets may be purchased at DeVivo's Shoe Repair Shop at no added cost.

The Mountaineers open the present campaign against Lehigh at Gordon Giffels field tomorrow, at 8 p.m. The Stroudsburg gridders worked out under the lights for the first time last night.

Serfass also pointed out that the new admission gate on the Ninth St. corner of Giffels field will be in use tomorrow night, as will the gate located near the Playground swings.

The old gate located near the showerroom will not be used this season Serfass pointed out.

Serfass and Alfred W. Munson, high school principal, represented Stroudsburg at last night's meeting.

State Coach Singing Blues

STATE COLLEGE, Sept. 15 (AP)—Coach Rip Engle, a veteran at singing the September blues, can't see how anyone believes his fifth Penn State football team will set the world on fire this fall.

"We're about average in everything—material, number of lettermen and the like," said Engle in appraising his club two weeks after the start of practice and 10 days before the opening game at Illinois.

"I can't see where everybody gets the idea we're going to set the world on fire."

The Nitanny Lions, sporting a six won and three lost mark for 1953, are ranked among the top in the east along with Army, Pitt and a couple of others. The basis for the rating is a solid line bolstered by the return of 11 letter winners—many of them first stringers.

In addition Engle has five more lettermen in the backfield. Lenny Moore, the Reading halfback sprinter, proved last year he can carry the ball. And Rosey Grier, 245-pound Roselle, N. J., guard already is being drummed as a full fledged star.

However, Engle started drills with two big worries and he says they are still unsolved. The first and most important is who will replace the best passer in state history—Tony Rados—in the signal calling post. The second is finding a suitable starter for the left guard post, left thin by the graduation of one starter and the loss of Sam Green via the classroom route.

Engle spent much of spring practice and now the last two weeks working with four boys trying to decide on a successor to Rados who was graduated.

Beside Illinois, rated fifth best in the nation in the pre season Associated Press poll, Penn State plays Virginia, West Virginia, Texas as Christian, Penn and Pitt in a tough nine game card.

And when neighboring Baltimore shelled out a sizable bundle of coin yesterday to lure Paul Richards as general manager of the Orioles, the howling grew even louder.

Calvin Griffith, the Nats' executive vice president, acknowledged the situation today. "Something is going to be done," he said. "We can't afford to get kicked around. You can be sure there will be plenty of changes."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—A major face lifting is in store for the Washington Senators over the winter, but whether Manager "Bucky" Harris will vanish in the shuffle rests squarely with an old friend, clubowner Clark Griffith.

The wolves have been howling in the capital as a result of the club's disappointing second division finish. Its attendance figures have t

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

John "Juice" Arnst, well known local boy who made football history at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, appears to be headed for great things at Penn State in the gridiron sport. Arnst, now a sophomore at State, is expected to see plenty of action at right end for the Nittany Lions this season. Last year Arnst was a member of the freshman squad, but right now is threatening to break into the starting lineup on the varsity contingent.

It was brought to my attention the other night that "Juice" is the only full scholarship athlete to ever leave East Stroudsburg High School for a collegiate athletic career. Arnst will be remembered as an outstanding tackle for the Cavaliers in 1952, when the purple and white clad machine rolled to eight wins in nine outings. He held down the fullback position in 1951, when first successful season in football history with four wins and the same number of setbacks.

Joe Shea, who held down the other tackle spot in 1951, is currently playing first string on the Pione grid machine at West Point. Joe, like Arnst, played four years of varsity football at the N. Courtland St. school. It is quite possible that the local area will be hearing plenty of good things about Shea on the Army varsity football squad in the next few years. Bowling season is well underway in the local area, with more teams swinging into action every night.

A football player leaving the field on the opposite side of the field from his bench doesn't necessarily draw a penalty for his team. A player may leave the game, for a substitute, on the opposite side of the field providing he "legally" tries to return to his bench. The term "legally" means that a player must start around the end of the field toward his bench immediately. If he goes through the field, or doesn't start promptly around the field, or loiters on the way, he shall be assessed either five or 15 yards depending on the circumstances.

A player leaving the game from the "wrong" side of the field may not legally re-enter the game from that side of the field. The timing rule in scholastic football has also been changed this year. It now provides that the clock shall be started only with a snap of the ball or a free-kick. A move has also been made to outlaw the "sleeper play." The new rule provides that after the ball is ready for play, and before the snap, each player on the offensive team must momentarily take a position not more than 15 yards from the spot where the ball is to be snapped, thence he may legally move to a wider position on the field.

Several of the new rule variations confused people at last Friday's East Stroudsburg-Hellertown game and are mentioned today in an effort to clear the situation somewhat for those planning on attending tomorrow night's tussle between Stroudsburg and Lehigh at Gordon Giffels Field. Tom Waring, Harry Obitz, Mike Devitt and Horace Heller will receive their life membership plaques in the Varsity "E" Club today. This quartet was unable to be present at last Friday's football game to be honored for their work in the "Highlights and Festival of Celebrities" show.

More former Lehigh Valley and Lehigh-Northampton League football stars are battling for positions on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College grid squad this season than in any other single campaign in the history of the sport on Normal Hill. Paddy DeMarco's elbow injury in this reporter's opinion saved him from the thrashing of his life next week and enables the present champion to retain the lightweight crown for a couple of more months. If Jimmy Carter is in the same shape for the November fight as he was for the bout that was called off the other day, I feel certain he will be the first lightweight to ever win the championship three times.

Carter was in great shape and anxious to get another shot at DeMarco, but the latter came up with a damaged elbow and the fight was postponed until Wednesday, November 17. It is quite possible that Jimmy may return to Harry's Farm, local training camp, to drill for the November bout. Jim Lemon, the big outfielder who received his start in professional baseball with Bloomington, N. J., of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, was hitting .316 with Charlotte, of the class "A" Sally League, before being recalled by Washington.

THIS WAY—Jimmy Soo, South Philadelphia lightweight, shows the same form on the big punching bag at Harry's Farm above that he used in toppling 14 foes in his professional career. Soo, who fights Baby Ray Jones tonight, has yet to taste defeat. (Staff Photo by Riley)

Soo Favored To Extend Ring Streak Against Jones Tonight

JIMMY SOO, current South Philadelphia boxing sensation, will put a 14-fight win streak on the line tonight in Philadelphia's Met when he opposes tough Baby Ray Jones, a fellow townsman from the west side of the Quaker City.

Mrozinski Makes Hit With Manager

By TOM BRADSHAW

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—

The rookie manager was toweled himself in the dressing room. His rookie pitcher had finished drying behind his ears and gone home.

It wasn't the happiest of occasions last night for either Manager Terry Moore of the Philadelphia Phillies or left-hander Ron Mrozinski, who lost a short time earlier to the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1.

But you got the definite impression that Moore wasn't as downhearted as he might have been, what with losing to his old team and all that.

"What did you think of the kid?" Moore was asked as he discarded the towel and started dressing.

"Looked pretty good—except for that one inning."

That one inning was the eighth in which Red Schoendienst and Rip Repulski hit back-to-back homers, good for three runs, and spoiled Mrozinski's otherwise commendable pitching effort.

There's a rumor going around that Curt Simmons might be traded this winter and Mrozinski take his place as a starter. Anything to it?

Moore looked genuinely startled. "Where did you hear that one?" he asked. "Believe me, if the Phillies are thinking seriously of trading Simmons, it's strictly news to me."

Mrozinski is a resident of White Haven and formerly pitched with Carbondale in the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League.

Cornell Loses Star Wingman

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP)—

Stan Intihar, sparkling junior end of the Cornell University football team, today was declared scholastically ineligible for the 1954 season.

A special committee of the School of Mechanical Engineering announced yesterday that the 215-pound, six-foot-four, pass grabber from Lucid, Ohio, had not met the school's scholastic requirements. Intihar made the all-Ivy League team last year.

Cincinnati Boss To Protest Game

BROOKLYN, Sept. 16 (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Reds, angered because the umpires refused to call off today's game between the Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers despite a steady rain, said today he would file a formal protest with the National League President Warren Giles.

Paul contends that the umpires never should have permitted the game to start because of the threatening weather. It began to rain in the Dodgers' half of the first inning and the downpour continued to the end.

"I realize that nothing probably will be done about it," the Cincinnati official said, "but I just can't let such action go on without trying to do anything about it."

"The umpires are grown men and should have the guts and courage of their convictions. They never should have permitted baseball to be played on a day like this. It rained all throughout the game."

Three Matches Listed

THREE MATCHES are on tap for the Monroe Classic League as the circuit opens its season at Harmon's Recreation today at 7 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Eagles "A" vs. Red Top Tavern.

Alleys three and four—Courtland Beverage vs. Bill Altier's.

Alleys five and six—Square Bar vs. Deerhead Inn.

Bangor To Present Veteran Football Talent In Opening Tussle With Palmerton Saturday

BANGOR—Bangor High School grid machine will open its season on Saturday facing the Palmerton High School Bombers at Palmer-ton.

The Slaters have been practicing long and hard in getting ready for this opening fray. Coach Granville "Granny" Evans has been scrimmaging and putting his prospects through rigid drills for the past two weeks in preparation for the beginning of the season.

From all reports, the 1954 squad looks to have plenty of experience and depth. The average weight of the linemen is fairly well distributed and the backs, although light, are reportedly plenty quick.

The probable starting lineup for Saturday presents a veteran array from end to end. Louis Casciano and Art "Bucky" Parsons will man the ends; Gerald Dally and Ralph "Barney" Stenlake at tackles; Nick Martocci and Dick Marinelli at guards; and Bill Goldshalk at center. These seven boys are veteran let-ten-men from last year's campaign. Although Casciano was incapacitated for the better part of the season, he was a letterman as a sophomore.

What's more, there is experience and depth to back up this first-line offense and defense. Walter "Red" Heard, a senior, and Anthony Ruggiero, a junior, are veteran endmen. They are also being pushed by sophomore Sammy Heard.

There's heft in the reserve tackle department, too. A pair of 200-pounders, Nick F. Martocci and Larry Raph; and an 180-pound Kermie LaBar present strength. Raph is a veteran and senior; LaBar is a junior and Martocci is up from the jayvees, a sophomore. Dick Stinson and Nick Due bring some experience from their last year's varsity play as reserve guards. There's also a promising sophomore, Charley Woolley, pushing them.

Don Evans, a junior and veteran of last year's varsity, and sophomore Joe Ronco are the pivot reserves.

The probable starting backfield for the opener will find Dick Hess at quarterback; Glenn Heard and Jack Stenlake at the halves; and either Duane Miller or Dale Miller, brothers, at the fullback post. Hess, a senior and veteran, and Duane Miller, also a senior, present the most experience in this array of backs. However, Stenlake and Heard did find their way into several games last season.

Dale Miller is a hefty sophomore who was a member of last year's varsity but saw very little action. Stenlake may also double at the quarterback spot. The only other signal caller is a sophomore with much promise, J. L. "Jabby" Williams, up from the jayvee squad of last year. Other backs include Arthur Miller, a senior and first appearance in a varsity suit, who has shown adaptability at running back punts and kickoffs; Bobby Finelli, a sophomore, who has exhibited speedy and flashy running; Sal Liuro, a junior who played with Roseto Parochial last year; Jimmy Freeman, a junior sidelined with a shoulder separation last year; and Bobby Butz, sophomore on the small size but loaded with dynamite.

Sugarbrook Kennels' Dog Wins In Three Shows

RYE, N. Y. — Sugarbrook Tradewind, black coated cocker spaniel from the Sugarbrook Kennels, Mountainhome, Pa., was judged Best of Variety at the Westchester Kennel Club show, held here last Sunday.

This was the third win for Tradewind over the weekend.

Friday at the New Jersey Cocker Spaniel Specialty he was Best of Withers, and repeated this win Saturday at the Somerset Hills Kennel Club show, both held at Far Hills, New Jersey.

Tradewind is now awaiting American Kennel Club confirmation of his championship title, after which he will be shown in Specials Only Class.

This is the fourth of the Sugarbrook cockers to become a bench show champion this year. Three are owned by Sugarbrook, while Ch. Taylors Dark Knight is owned by Dr. Gilbert Taylor of Pocono Manor and Glen Cove, N. Y.

Dark Knight is being handled at the shows by Ted Young, and the Sugarbrook cockers are shown by Bain Cobb, Far Hills, New Jersey.

Crowe's Keglers To Launch Regular Season

CROWE'S INSURANCE, representing East Stroudsburg in the Delaware Valley Bowling League, will help launch the 1954-1955 season on Saturday, at 8 p.m.

The local club is slated to roll against Capuro's Cities Service on the Fleas Club alleys in Easton. Action is listed for 8 p.m.

Jack Nittel, Jack Darr, John Javitt, Tom Sommers and Dick Andress will again form the first five. Russ Bergman, making his first appearance with the club, will be the number six man on the roster.

SEN. ARTHUR V. WATKINS (R-Utah), chairman of the special committee investigating charges against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, raps the gavel ending the hearings in Washington. The next step is for the three Republicans and three Democrats to draft their report on a motion that the Senate condemn the official acts of its junior member from Wisconsin. With Watkins is E. W. Chadwick, committee counsel.

Alcoholism As Health Problem To Be Aired

A DISCUSSION of alcoholism as one of society's major health problems will be heard Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. at St. Matthew's Church school auditorium.

George W. Lovering, Scranton, will be the speaker. Lovering is community organization representative for this area covered by the Division of Alcohol Studies and Rehabilitation, Department of Health.

The meeting is sponsored by the local Alcoholics Anonymous group. Lovering is expected to discuss the Commonwealth's "Eight Point Program" which has been established to diagnose, care for and rehabilitate alcoholics.

Another major point to be covered is the prevention of alcoholism. Local AA spokesmen, in advance of the meeting, called attention to the fact that "there are 4,500,000 alcoholics in the U. S. today" and that alcoholism is the fourth greatest killer of all diseases in the U. S.

All persons interested in understanding alcoholism and alcoholics are invited and urged to attend the special meeting, the AA secretary said last night.

Most Stocks Close Lower; Volume Light

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Railroads, aircrafts, oil and steel dragged the stock market lower today. But volume was light, trading selective and some industrials recovered from a mid-afternoon flurry of profit taking to close higher.

Motion pictures, utilities, chemicals and building material producers also favored the minus column. But most airlines and copper mining issues improved while motors, rubbers, radio-television and retail chain ended mixed.

It was the first market decline so far this month and brokerage houses were inclined to attach significance to it. Three times in recent weeks the market has barely surpassed its highest levels in 25 years only to fall backward. Most market analysts agree that the market is poised either for a new and vigorous attack on its all-time peak or a retreat that may test the 1954 lows.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents at $133.90. The individual component was off 50 cents at $182.50.

There were 1,211 issues traded against 1,210 yesterday. Of these, 578 declined and 351 advanced. There were 61 new highs established during the session and only two new 1954 lows.

Volume amounted to 2,110,000 shares compared with 2,120,000 yesterday.

Anaconda Copper rose 1/4 at 41 1/2 on 34,000 shares, the most actively traded issue. The company announced expansion of its uranium ore-processing plant at Bluewater, N. M.

Pennsylvania Railroad 17 1/2 off 1/2, was the second most active issue. Canadian Pacific 27 1/2 up 1/2 was third, U. S. Steel 55 1/2 up 1/2 was fourth and Radio Corp. 34 1/2 up 1/2 was fifth.

The American Stock Exchange was irregularly lower as volume increased to 680,000 shares from 640,000 shares yesterday.

U. S. government bonds inched upward while the corporate bond market held steady.

Congress Shares Responsibility For Increase In Deficit Anticipated For Fiscal Year

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst
The government's fiscal situation, which the Republicans and the public had considered generally well in hand, now promises to become an issue in this year's political campaign.

The national administration itself—the executive branch—usually gets the blame when anything goes wrong with the budget, if it's something that is not popular. It is typical of American politics that a popular deficit is one thing and an unpopular deficit another.

This time Congress carries a good share of the responsibility for a suddenly-discovered increased deficit. Congress was Republican controlled, although the Democratic members contributed in cutting taxes more than the administration asked. Civilian expenditures were increased while the defense program took heavy cuts.

The administration had relied upon these cuts to give it a good start toward a balanced budget.

Instead, tax collections are off, especially in the corporation field, in addition to the direct reductions made for individuals. Refunds are heavier than expected. Instead of heading toward balance, the budget deficit is now expected to be $4,700,000,000, or nearly two billion more than for the year which ended last July.

Spending increases voted by Congress over and above the Budget Bureau's estimates made last January run approximately 1 1/2 billion.

The Republicans, of course, can still point to a 50 per cent reduction in the deficit since the 1953 budget was prepared by the Democrats. But the net reduction seems now to lie almost entirely in the field of national defense—which worries many people who wish to take no chance in that field.

And there is always a let-down when a situation which appears to be well in hand turns out not to be. Even though it is balanced by the popularity of tax reductions.

This political reaction was undoubtedly in President Eisenhower's mind when, told of what the budget estimates would show, was quoted by Budget Director Hughes as saying "Well, you have got to tell the story the way it is."

The Republicans immediately came up with the theory that some of the tax reductions and some of the new spending will actually work on the economy with the result that a net increase in tax collections will come eventually; that this is merely a temporary setback in their drive toward a balanced budget.

The taxpayers will be anxious to know.
